

Terri PAC Web Site Offline

Terri PAC, the political action committee created by Terri Schiavo's former husband, has paid a $1350 fine to the Federal Election Commission in Washington (Life News.com, 13 Aug 07). The fine was assessed after the group failed to file complete and timely reports. Now the political group's website has been taken offline.

“After ordering her painful two-week long starvation and dehydration death in March 2005, Michael Schiavo created the PAC to target pro-life lawmakers who tried to stop him from killing her”.